Educating Principled Engineering Leaders of Tomorrow

ASEE-SE has a long-standing tradition of fantastic conferences, which are open to everyone interested in improving the engineering education experience. Participants include faculty, students, department chairs, college deans, and industry leaders in engineering, engineering technology, and computing education. We look forward to more than 200 attendees with 100 presented papers and 50 student posters and many opportunities for active participation for attendees.

Workshops and tours start on Saturday. The conference officially opens at the Sunday night reception. Monday begins with a plenary speaker followed by paper sessions and a student poster competition. Monday evening features an awards dinner with an invited speaker. Tuesday includes paper sessions in the morning and our adjournment after lunch. Breakfasts and lunches are included. We hope you will join us!

Call for Papers and Presentation Abstracts

Authors are invited to submit full-length manuscripts or work-in-progress papers. Papers addressing the conference theme will have first priority and may include topics related to the following:

- Impact of Pandemic on Education
- Online, Distance, and Blended Education
- Innovative Learning Technologies, Curricula or Courses
- Virtual Learning Communities
- Experiential Learning
- Teaching/Learning Practices
- Resilience, Recruitment, and Retention
- K-12 Outreach Programs

- Engineering Common Cores
- First Year Engineering Programs
- Capstone Design Courses or Projects
- Undergraduate Research
- Inter- and Multi-Disciplinary Practices
- Ethics, Diversity, Inclusion, Leadership
- Professional Education and Development
- Academic/Industry Partnerships
- Administration, Accreditation, Assessment

Full-length papers (6-10 pages, excluding references and bios) and Work in Progress papers (3-4 pages, excluding references and bios) will be accepted based on double-blinded peer reviews of complete manuscripts. Guidelines for manuscript preparation will be available via the "Author Information & Instructions" link at sites.asee.org/se, under the "Conference" menu.

Authors are expected to present their papers at the conference to facilitate the transfer of knowledge through discussion and debate. All accepted papers presented by a timely registered author will be included in the conference proceedings. An author/co-author can be associated with as many papers as is appropriate, but a registrant can serve as the presenter of record on a maximum of three papers.

Pre-conference workshops and student poster presentations for lower- and upper-division design and undergraduate research is also planned. Details for these other programs will be announced in the Fall 2021.
